

Gail Smith Reading

Gail L. Reading passed away Friday, Dec. 9, 2016, at Doylestown Hospital.

Born in Doylestown and lifelong area resident, Gail was the daughter of the late Harry G. and Virginia Smith.

Gail was the wife of Kenneth L. Reading, to whom she was married for 49 years.

Gail had worked as a teacher's assistant in the Palisades School District. She will be remembered for being a loving wife, mother and grandmother, who in her free time enjoyed doing word search puzzles.

In addition to her husband, Gail is survived by her children, Stephanie Unruh (John), and Christine Reading (Thomas). She was the sister of Peggy Blackmon, Joann Smith and Robert Smith. She was also the grandmother of Trevor and Adam Unruh, Ruba Smith and the late Maslin Smith.

Gail's funeral service will be held 11 a.m. Thursday, Dec. 15, at the Shelly Funeral Home, Easton and Keller's Church Roads, Plumsteadville, where the family will receive friends from 10 a.m. until the time of the service. Interment will be held privately.
